*Early issues of Trail Tales combined historical articles with brief news items, not all of which are included in this index. Written obituaries are included in this issue index, but death notices are not included. All obituaries and death notices are included in the subject index. Inserts of historical documents were also included with Trail Tales, sometimes loose and sometimes bound into the publication. These are noted when known. Reprints not actually bound or sent with Trail Tales are not included in this index. Books are included if reviewed or have information specifically about Boone County, Boone County resident, or an incident occurring in Boone County.
